

Bert Planting

Product Safety Coordinator

ASML

BIOGRAPHY

Bert Planting is the World Wide Product Safety coordinator for ASML (since 1996) responsible for all product safety aspects (design review till end-user negotiations) of ASML litho-tools.

Mr. Planting has been an active member in SEMI standards activities since 1997. Currently member of the SEMI standards Regulations committee, Audit & review committee, Co-chair of European EHS-committee, taskforce leader of SEMI S10 and involved in many SEMI initiative like RoHS and REACH.

Mr. Planting has worked in the chemical industry in various positions at GE-plastics, Bergen op Zoom (From 1989 till 1996). Mr. Planting started his career as a chemical engineer in Phosgene/Polycarbonate plant followed by a couple of years as plant engineer in the Chlorine plant.

The last few years at GE, Mr. Planting was a Supervisor safety programs managing the Safety department, safety coordination of 11 chemical plants and performing safety audits on all European locations.